EVENT OVERVIEW

ABOUT INNOVATION DAY

A focused day of education, collaboration, and capability discovery—held directly on Fort Belvoir.

AFCEA Belvoir Innovation Day will bring together senior Government and military leaders, large defense contractors, technology companies, small businesses, and nontraditional partners for a focused day of education, collaboration, and capability discovery. Aligned with the Department of War Critical Technology Areas, the event will explore mission priorities across artificial intelligence, cybersecurity, Zero Trust, data and analytics, cloud modernization, and mission IT.

Government-led sessions, industry thought leadership, a technology showcase, and targeted networking will provide insight into emerging requirements and innovative solutions—while connecting large defense contractors with small businesses to foster teaming, strengthen the defense industrial base, and accelerate promising technologies from concept to contract and ultimately to the warfighter.

ON THE INSTALLATION

WHY FORT BELVOIR

Fort Belvoir is home to a unique concentration of Army, DoW, intelligence, acquisition, logistics, and technology organizations. The Innovation Day provides an opportunity to bring these communities together in an accessible, mission-focused environment directly on the installation.

Rather than a traditional tradeshow, the event will combine Government-led educational sessions with an intimate technology showcase, creating opportunities for meaningful interaction between mission owners, technical professionals, acquisition stakeholders, and industry partners.
